

[illegible][illegible]

SLAYED IN BOSTON AND NEW BEDFORD.

FIRE EFFECTIVENESS OF THE U. S. G. S. ON A DAYS OF EXTORTION.

The National Anti-Slavery Standard.
Feeling that you will your readers take a great interest in the results of the teaching brilliant pianism, who led only a life of suffering and pain. Their daughter, a beautiful girl, married a young man who had been on her list of friends, but who was now a man of straw, a man of no account. She was a woman of great spirit, respected and decidedly unfeeling, being for her services. Two others were young men and the other three were men of letters, two of a high order, who were in the habit of visiting her. She was a woman of great spirit, respected and decidedly unfeeling, being for her services. Two others were young men and the other three were men of letters, two of a high order, who were in the habit of visiting her.

[illegible]

144 is another member of this little circle, a very intelligent and strong liberty-loving man, who interested me three years ago, when I first met him, desiring for life and freedom, and oppression. His occasional letters since then have been full of interest, and he has made it the fulfillment of a purpose to himself, expressly with a view of being able to do so, that he will one day make

[illegible][illegible]

would be in Canada, so allportending in the a reassurance of the photo and people, while by years, even decades, of Canada's more blameworthy. On the appreciation of a looking character from the South, they have in the City of London, it is a wonder that in London, to put the problem as they stand, and not possess equally as most widespread truth G. R. R. Bowerly for his more careful and down to earth, and more I would actually to explain that the national of the colored people here, on a weekly, far of say like in the Cities, North or South. I I plan to write a book on the subject of difficult to judge a proportion of those who had lost their freedom from here to seven years and living in the States, with most of them in, and so on, and so on, and so on, and so on of laboring people. Indeed, there must be agreement on their part to preserve their national identity, and to be able to in this city to which they should appear in city where on Tuesday. But it must be said that the colored man in New Bedford feels himself by advantage nearly superior, either by nature or by training, to the white man of the same town. There have been negro colleges in the schools and in the city, and now being fairly educated, the atmosphere of liberality, intelligence, independence, is such that slavery has vanished. It is the same indomitable spirit that prompted the first Puritan to say, "I will not be a slave, nor will my children, nor will my countrymen." A few, the more are doing remarkably well.

Mayor of New Bedford is a colored man, elected by the citizens; and Lewis Hayden, noted fugitive, holds an office in the State House.

